What is a child protection and safeguarding inspection?

A Child Protection and Safeguarding Inspection (CPSI) is a focused inspection of the implementation of the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary schools 2017. These procedures provide direction and guidance to school authorities and to school personnel in relation to meeting their statutory obligations under the Children First Act 2015. They also provide direction and guidance in relation to the continued implementation of the best practice, non-statutory guidance set out in Children First National Guidance 2017. The CPSI inspection model examines the implementation of the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary schools 2017 in schools through conduction ten checks based on the procedures.

The CPSI inspection process consists of two inspections: an Initial Child Protection and Safeguarding Inspection and a Final Child Protection and Safeguarding Inspection. The two inspections are typically carried out in a school within a relatively short timeframe. This is a report on a Final Child Protection and Safeguarding Inspection.

What happens during a final child protection and safeguarding inspection? During a final CPSI, inspectors:

- Engage with learners about their learning in Social Personal and Health Education (SPHE) and Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE)
- Conduct a focus group meeting with representatives of the parents' association / parent representatives on the board of management to explores issues relevant to school climate and parents' awareness of the school's child protection procedures, including the school's anti-bullying procedures
- Hold meetings with:
 - Designated Liaison Person (DLP) / Deputy DLP
 - Chairperson of board of management
 - A sample of school personnel
 - The SPHE coordinator
- Review the following documents:
 - Board of management minutes
 - Child safeguarding statement and risk assessment
 - Relevant school plans
 - The school's IT Acceptable Use Policy (AUP)
- Review child protection records, where these have been created.

The board of management of the school was given an opportunity to comment on the findings and recommendations of the report; the board chose to accept the report without response.

How to read this report

The checks conducted during this inspection are based on the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary Schools 2017.

The first section of the report indicates the extent to which the school was compliant with each of the checks conducted by indicating, in respect of each of the stated checks, whether the school was:

- 1. Fully compliant
- 2. Substantially compliant
- 3. Partially compliant
- 4. Not compliant

Some of the checks may not be relevant to a particular school, for example a school that has never had a concern in relation to child protection will not have any child protection records. In such cases, the report indicates that the check does not apply to the school by stating Not Applicable after that particular check.

It should be noted that the term 'school personnel' as referred to in this inspection report is used as a generic term to cover all adults who are involved in the operation of the school. It covers employees and voluntary workers and includes parent association members when they are working in the school. These personnel include, for example, teachers, special needs assistants, caretakers, secretaries, cleaners, voluntary workers in the school, paid or voluntary tutors, and parent association members helping with aspects of the work of the school.

Where a school is less than fully compliant with a particular requirement, the report provides some additional evaluative comment on the check. It also advises actions that the school should take in order to comply more fully with the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary Schools 2017.

The report also provides an evaluative comment on the school's planning for and implementation of the Social Personal and Health Education curriculum and the Stay Safe programme / Relationships and Sexuality Education programme as evident during the inspection. In providing this overview, reference is made to the appropriate quality level of the Inspectorate's Quality Continuum:

- Very good
- Good
- Satisfactory
- Fair
- Weak

A Guide to Child Protection and Safeguarding Inspections was published on the website of the Department of Education in January 2019 and can be accessed at www.gov.ie. This Guide details how CPSIs are carried out and also provides the framework used by inspectors in arriving at judgements about a school's compliance with the aspects of the Child Protection Procedures 2017 that are checked during the inspection.

Child protection and safeguarding inspection report

The checks detailed below derive from the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary Schools 2017. These procedures are designed to ensure that schools provide a safe and secure environment for all our children and through appropriate curriculum provision, provide for the incremental development of the life skills that will empower students to keep themselves safe.

In order to meet these aims, the procedures set out a number of requirements on schools relating to communicating with members of the school community about child protection matters; training of school personnel and board members in respect of child protection; reporting about child protection to the board of management; and fulfilling certain reporting and record keeping obligations in relation to child protection matters. They also detail the mandatory aspects of the curriculum that are designed to develop students' knowledge, skills, attitudes and behaviours through Social Personal and Health Education (SPHE) and the Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE) programme.

school, paid or voluntary tutors, and parent association members helping with aspects of the work of the school.)

10. Curriculum Check
There is a Social Personal and Health Education (SPHE) programme for all students in Junior Cycle.	Yes
There is a Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE) programme for all students in the school.	Yes

The overall quality of planning for and implementation of the SPHE curriculum and the RSE programme was good.

The school had very good timetabled provision of two lesson periods each week for SPHE in 1st and 2nd year and one period per week in 3rd year. Students in Leaving Certificate Applied (LCA) received RSE in their Social Education lessons. It was positive to note that some members of the department had accessed appropriate training relevant to RSE.

Subject department schemes of work consisted of a list of topics to be covered and a list of resources for SPHE and RSE planning, as well as links to key learning outcomes to be achieved. During the evaluation it was positive to note that a number of worthwhile programmes have been organised to support senior cycle students' experience of RSE. There was a need to review and extend the current level of planning to incorporate a number of other areas, such as assessment, and the delivery of the programme over the school year. The plan could usefully be developed by a core group of SPHE teachers. While there is not an SPHE co-ordinator at present, it is suggested that an SPHE co-ordinator might be appointed on a rotational basis.

In order to build on students' experience of SPHE and RSE when developing this plan, focus groups should be organised with senior cycle students so as to identify their current learning needs and their thoughts with regard to their experiences in junior cycle.

Junior cycle students' knowledge of key topics in RSE was of a good standard. Students were positive with regard to their experiences of SPHE. In senior cycle, there was a need for further development of students' work in RSE, with a number of gaps in students' experience of RSE being apparent.

A group meeting with parents was held during the evaluation. Parents were very positive when discussing their awareness of relevant school policies and procedures. They expressed confidence in the school's ability to deal with issues of child protection and bullying. In addition, they spoke very positively regarding the atmosphere of the school and their children's experience of the school.
